

THOUSAND STARS IN COLLEGE MEET

Many Athletes to Compete
In Intercollegiate Track
Games.

PENN NOW FAVORED FOR POINT TROPHY

Stirring Contests Seem Assured In
All Events at Franklin
Field, Philadelphia.

Nearly one thousand—247, to be exact—of the fastest men on the cinder track and the best performers in the field events of the college world will measure speed, strength, and skill in the thirty-fifth annual track and field games of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America which will be held on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, tomorrow and Saturday.

Probably never before in the history of the association has there been talent of such generally exceptional quality entered. With a fast track and favorable weather conditions, records in every event, with one or two possible exceptions, should be in danger. The University of Pennsylvania is conceded to have the best chance of being the largest point winner, but Harvard and Yale will dispute this, and Princeton and Cornell both are confident of gathering in points.

Among the colleges and universities which have entered are Pennsylvania, Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Michigan, Dartmouth, Wesleyan, Amherst, Williams, New York University, the University of Virginia, Syracuse, Pennsylvania State, Swarthmore, Brown, Fordham, Bowdoin, Harvard, Rutgers, Colgate, and the College of the City of New York. Eighty-nine men are entered for the 100-yard dash. Although the field includes no runner as good as Rector, yet the winner may have to go under ten seconds to win. Foster, of Harvard, stands a good show of winning. But against him are the speedy runners, Ramsdell, of Pennsylvania; Cooke, of Princeton; Gamble and Craig, of Michigan; Chisholm, of Yale; Gardner, of Harvard; and MacArthur and Hurlburt, of Cornell.

Furlong Close.

The 220-yard dash should be as close a sprint as anyone could wish. Cooke, of Princeton, is a fast man, and won handsily in the dual meet with Yale. He will have stiff competition, however, with such men as Ramsdell, of Pennsylvania; Ford, of Cornell; Foster, of Pennsylvania; and Mims, of Michigan. Other good men entered are Craig and Gamble, of Michigan; Chisholm and Ford, of Yale; Ziegler, of Syracuse; and Stanton, of the University of Virginia. From crack pistol to the breaking of the tape the quarter-mile run will be hard fought by a field of ninety-five. In this event are Ramsdell and Mims, of Pennsylvania; Sawyer and Cooke, of Princeton; Colbath, of Bowdoin; Walsh, of Fordham; MacArthur and Hurlburt, of Cornell; Gardner, Kelley and Simmons, of Harvard; Kirkjassott, of Yale; Craig and Bohnsack, of Michigan; Bradford, of Swarthmore, and Stanton and White, of the University of Virginia. Stanton has been running in remarkably good form throughout the season, and it is possible that he may spring a surprise. Church, of Pennsylvania, is another speedy man.

Harvard Strong.

Sixty-three men are entered for the high hurdles. Harvard has a strong trio in Lewis, Long, and Gardner, but Dwight, of Princeton, is faster than any of the three, and Chisholm, of Yale, is a good man, though by no means the equal of former Captain Howe. Eberle, of Swarthmore, may make trouble, as he is very fast and experienced. "Larry" Martin, captain of the University of Virginia team, is on form one of the best men entered, and in condition should be the favorite. Yale's Walsh, of him last year that he was the best natural hurdler in college. There are thirty-seven entries for the low hurdles. The best of these are also in the high hurdles, and Martin on form should be a slight favorite here too. Gardner, of Harvard; Sibbel, of Princeton; and Duncanson, of Princeton, are all likely performers.

Pennsylvania is on form sure to score in the half-mile run. C. Church and Paul are ordinarily point winners in this event, and Church has a chance of breaking the tape. S. Kirkjassott, of Yale, and Howard Algire, of Syracuse, are two as good half-milers as one ordinarily finds. In the mile run, Pennsylvania has in this event Paul and Church; Harvard, H. Jacques; Dartmouth, J. W. Noyes; Michigan, May; Yale, MacFadyen and R. E. Miles; Cornell, Bogert and De Golyer; Syracuse, Howard Algire, and Princeton, White.

In Distance Run. The two-mile run are entered Paul and Taylor, of Pennsylvania; Algire, of Syracuse; May and McLaughlin, of Michigan; Young and Berna, of Cornell; Miles, of Yale, and Colbath, of Bowdoin. Berna recently set a new intercollegiate mark for the distance. His record is 2 minutes 22 seconds.

Among the fifty-two entries for putting the shot are Captain Little, of Harvard; Kilpatrick, Goshel, Conney, and Coy, of Yale; MacFadyen, of Princeton; Pike, of Pennsylvania; Horner, of Michigan; O'Rourke, of Cornell, and Shaw, of Syracuse. Forty-four men will compete in the hammer throw. Among them are Horner, Pike, Conney, and Andrus, of Yale; Spears, of Princeton; Shaw, of Syracuse; Hodges, of Harvard; Marden, of Dartmouth, and Burdick, of Pennsylvania. The pole vault will probably go to Nelson, of Yale, who in the dual meet with Harvard Saturday broke the intercollegiate record, clearing the bar at a fraction over 12 feet 6 inches. Holdman, of Dartmouth; Moore, of Princeton; Gardner, of Yale; Lawrence, of Harvard, and d'Antremont, of Cornell, are among the other entries.

For the running broad jump the contestants are Martin, of Virginia; Little and Dillingham, of Harvard; Baird, Kilpatrick, and Greene, of Yale; Ford and Nixon, of Cornell; Ramo, of Pennsylvania; E. M. Roberts, of Amherst, and a strong delegation from Michigan.

PUBLIC PROTECTED FROM RACE CLAIMS

Leading Auto Manufacturer
Discusses Important Item of Current Interest.

By HARRY WARD.

A great deal of interest attaches to a statement issued by one of the leading automobile manufacturers of the country, in the course of which he says the public does not realize how well it is protected from erroneous and extravagant racing claims this season. The eagle eye of the American Automobile Association contest board is ever fixed on the statements made by manufacturers who race their cars, and this season's stock car is really a stock car.

"The inauguration of the 1910 contest rules marks a new epoch," says the manufacturer in question. "The percentage basis upon which stock car production is figured makes it impossible for any concern, no matter how big it is, to build a bunch of special machines and still keep within the stock car definition. This season a car same in every particular as the cars offered for sale to the public by the dealers.

"Such a condition of affairs is pleasing to makers who have tried to win with stock machines. The fact that the racing is conducted under the three A's and the contest board exercises its power to punish those who infringe upon the rules has raised the motor car racing contests from their commercial foundation to that of high class sport. The people are realizing the change which the 1910 rules have brought about, and as a result are supporting the racing tests with greater interest than ever before."

Frank Hardart, winner of the sweepstakes trophy in the Frank A. Munsey reliability contest last fall, and one of the best-known motorists in Philadelphia, arrived in Washington last evening. He is here for the purpose of participating in the five-day race which will start on Friday morning at 8:30, coming by way of Lancaster, York, and Gettysburg, and Baltimore. Owing to the rain the tourists found the roads heavy and speed was out of the question. The car arrived here about 9 o'clock last night. Accompanying Mr. Hardart are Mrs. Hardart, Miss Irma Hardart, and Gustav A. Hardart.

Motorists were much in evidence last night at the Chamber of Commerce, where a meeting was held of all those who will take part in the endurance run from Washington to Richmond and return, which commences Friday morning. William West, who will be the referee of the contest, presided. Every detail of the event was gone over fully, and all doubtful questions were cleared up. The run promises to be a big success, twenty-five cars having been entered. In addition there will be six special cars.

Washington friends of George W. Bellard, who has been suffering from blood poisoning, expects to get back into the game within a month or so. Sullivan contracted the disease while the Sox were on the coast. At one time his condition was considered critical.

After one of the most successful trips that ever fell to the lot of any pathfinder, the 45-horsepower Columbia roadster, which bears the party for the 1910 good roads tour over the national highway, is on its return trip from Atlanta. Driver Rolfe and the car are expected to reach New York city some time this afternoon.

Elliot F. Hough, of the Pope Automobile Company, is proud of the fact that his son, Peyton Royce Hough, in breaking into the automobile racing game in Denver, in great shape. Driving a Warren-Detroit in the races in that city last week, he finished second in the five-mile event, and drove third in the three-mile free for all handicap, which was won by a high priced foreign car, which started from scratch. Young Hough had a handicap of forty seconds.

W. S. Duvall, president of the Automobile Club of Washington, has been advised that the American Automobile Association has selected the week of June 6 as "Orphans' Week" for all clubs affiliated with the national body. The probabilities are this laudable custom of giving the orphans an auto ride on some particular day will be more general this year than ever before. The Washington club, which has always taken the lead in this respect, is planning to give every orphan a ride during the week of June 6.

Herbert Clayton, of Barre, Vt., is in Washington for a few days, and is using his Ford car in visiting the numerous places of interest here. He drove down from his Vermont home in the car, and will return via Frederick and the Gettysburg battlefield. He expects to cover nearly 1,000 miles on his trip.

Without having met a single accident and without making adjustments of any sort, the 45-horsepower Columbia car that is pathfinding the route for the Atlanta-New York good roads tour, has arrived in Atlanta. Ten days were consumed in the run from New York. The car left yesterday on its homeward trip.

There is no more striking example of a man's winning his way upward than Fred W. Haines, who at the age of twenty-nine, has been named as president and general manager of the Regal Motor Car Company, of Detroit. He is one of the best known and best liked men in the industry.

The latest addition to the sales staff of the Hudson Motor Car Company is P. D. Stubbs, according to Manager Sibbald, of the Zell Motor Car Company. He has been associated with the Eastern department of the White Company, of Cleveland, and for several years has been connected with a number of large motor concerns.

McALEER'S CHOICE FOR THIS AFTERNOON

PITCHER DOC REISLING.

CAUGHT ON THE FLY IN WORLD OF BASEBALL

Hal Chase is playing marvelous ball for the Yankees. Stallings' infielders do not have to look where they are throwing for Chase is grabbing the ball whenever it is within five feet of him. Great play this.

There is no doubt that the Naps are playing in real hard luck. Line hits are being caught by the opposing fielders with men on the bases every day.

McGraw is being censured for not working his young pitchers. He finally put Drucker in against Cincinnati, and tore off a victory. It is now suggested that he work all his youngsters and let the veterans a chance to round into form.

Billy Sullivan, the Chicago White Sox catcher, who has been suffering from blood poisoning, expects to get back into the game within a month or so. Sullivan contracted the disease while the Sox were on the coast. At one time his condition was considered critical.

but he has been slowly recovering. He is now in Chicago. Sullivan still has to walk with the aid of crutches. These, he says, he will soon be able to lay aside.

The following is from Jungtown, and from its tone it is evident that the Tigers hold the Athletics as sort of easy opponents: "When the Tigers began hitting Krause, the Athletics, a demoralized team, crumpled behind the pitcher and from a nine leading the American League they became like unto the tail-end club of the corner lot league."

The Athletics may be "demoralized" and all that, but it takes some team to score thirteen wins in a row. If they are crippled now, fans are wondering what they will do when they "regain form."

When it comes to hustling a game through, Umpire Connolly is a past master. The last man is no runner out in an inning that he is calling for the next batter.

OLD "BILL" HASSAMER ANSWERS LAST CALL

Former Washington Ball
Player Dies At Home
In St. Louis.

Word reached here this morning that Bill Hassamer, a former member of the Washington ball club, is dead in St. Louis.

Hassamer played here under Gus Schmelz, when Washington was in the National League. He was a right fielder, and attracted national attention by the number of three-base hits he made each season.

On the same team with Hassamer were Bill Joyce, Ed Cartwright, "Piggy" Ward, Paul Radford, Charley Farrell, Charles Abbey, and Duncy Coogan.

After leaving the major leagues Hassamer went to the minors, but has been practically unknown to baseball during the past few seasons.

FAST GAME SUNDAY.

The Old Dominion Stars, of Annapolis, Md., will clash with the Belmont Tigers Sunday at Union League Park, Fifteenth and H streets northeast. As the Stars are reputed to be a fast semi-pro team, their best pitchers primed for this clash. The Tigers have canceled their trip to Virginia for the 30th of May and will meet a fast semi-pro team at Union League Park on that day.
